Profile

Print Run: 10.000

As a scientific journal in English, "implants - international magazine of oral implantology" enjoys a rapidly growing international audience with readers in more than a 100 countries. Published in cooperation with DGZI e.V. (German Association of Dental Implantology), the magazine is dedicated to the transfer of implantology know-how. Its highly-specialised readership is provided with regular updates on current developments in implantology by user-oriented case reports, scientific studies and concise product information. Reports on international specialist congresses and symposia are of special interest, including DGZI's international activities, whose 11,000 members and associates form an extensive implantological network.

More than 80 percent of the magazine's copies are distributed directly to members and subscribers. Moreover, implants can be obtained at more than 50 international dental exhibitions and congresses. Implants – international magazine of oral implantology is published in English (BE).
