

Academy of Osseointegration Annual Meeting 2018

Dr Mohamed Awwad, USA

The Academy of Osseointegration 2018 Annual Meeting was held in Downtown Los Angeles from 28 February to 3 March following the theme “Inspiring imagination —Enhancing health” (Fig. 1). The DGZI was represented by Dr Awwad from California and Dr Boutros from Michigan (both USA). The meeting taking place at the Los Angeles Convention Center welcomed attendees from all over the world. Participants benefited of enjoyable and productive meetings with global colleagues while staying on the cutting edge of technology and up to date with implant dentistry. As a highlight of the meeting Dr Michael Norton passed the torch to the new president Dr James Taylor who will now be leading the Academy of Osseointegration (AO) board of directors for one year. With over 6,000 members in 70 countries the AO is considered to be one of the premier US associations for professionals interested in the clinical part and the science of implant dentistry.

Dr Harold Slavkin and Dr Stephen T. Chen, two keynote speakers of the meeting kicked off the opening symposium (Fig. 2). The programme included corporate forums, pre-conference sessions and workshops in the areas of implant complications, digital workflow and dynamic navigation, among others. On Friday morning all attendees had the opportunity to learn about the latest research and science findings from leaders of the field during the “Morning with the Masters” sessions.

On Saturday a full-day team programme was offered for allied staff and dental laboratory technicians. Renowned speakers gave presentations in restorative and surgical sessions at the main podium on topics reaching from modular bone augmentation, peri-implantitis and All-on-4 to tissue regeneration and replication. In the closing symposium on implant aesthetics Drs Chu, Urbán and Zucchelli presented on GBR and soft-tissue graft techniques. Dr Kenji Higuchi was the recipient of the Nobel Biocare Brånemark Osseointegration Award 2018. The president reception closing party at Microsoft Square was a vivid outdoors event with the Britishmania band. See you in Washington D.C. in 2019!
