

LCI's Full Immersion Training will transform your practice

Lake Como Institute (LCI) is a training centre for advanced implantology founded by Dr Tiziano Testori. The training centre, located in Como in Italy, combines evidence-based approaches with 30 years of clinical experience in the field of perio-implantology and cutting-edge diagnostic and surgical equipment. LCI courses aim to educate participants on professional, comprehensive dental care for patients. Clinical excellence is based on protocols and attention to detail, fundamental factors for achieving long-lasting treatment outcomes.

LCI's motto is "You ask. We have the answer". This year, LCI's answer is a tailor-made course that will transform clinical practice. The facility is organising the Full Immersion Training (F.I.T.) course, which consists of two modules, including a two-day cadaver course with the specific goal of teaching the anatomy of the facial skeleton. Working on human cadavers is equivalent to performing surgery on a patient, but allows the clinician to practise and improve surgical skills without taking risks.

About 90 per cent of the course is hands-on training, as the LCI teaching staff believe this is the best training for implantologists who want to learn new or improve their current skills. A dissection course (first module) can be a great benefit for both beginners and experts and is considered essential for implantologists.

The second module is dedicated to perio-implantology for the general practitioner. This part of the course includes theoretical and hands-on training to build confidence and develop skills in using the most popular bone reconstruction techniques and soft-tissue grafting procedures. Attending this module will increase predictability and long-term stability of bone grafting cases and can improve proficiency in implant dentistry through standardised surgical and prosthetic protocols. Attendees will receive practical guidelines for easy application in day-to-day clinical practice.

The F.I.T. programme is based on a learning-by-doing approach, and LCI is proud to share knowledge with attendees, because "You ask. We have the answer".
