Dear colleagues,

With the present programme, we would like to cordially invite you to the 2nd Future Congress for Dental Implantology, to be held from 4 to 5 October 2019 in Munich, Germany.

Admittedly, we were a bit nervous when we first presented our new congress format to the public in Düsseldorf last year. By entirely realigning our annual congress, we have set ourselves ambitious goals to accept major challenges and we then successfully mastered them. We succeeded in combining innovation and tradition in a very special way. Being the oldest European specialist association for dental implantology, we have demonstrated our commitment to certain values, yet we have the courage to launch something new and to break the mould at times. Implantology is undergoing constant change and our field of activity is developing rapidly. DGZI, too, is embracing this development. Since our special dental discipline, implantology, is facing enormous challenges, courage and vision are more important today than ever.

Perio-Implantology: Implants, Bone & Tissue—Where are we today and where are we headed?

This will be the overriding theme of our 2nd Future Congress for Dental Implantology. Or to put it differently: the implant in the context of bone and tissue. A high-grade team of academic speakers, as well as numerous practitioners, will present the latest developments in lectures, live broadcasts and table clinics and discuss them with the participants of the event.

Our aim is clear:

If you, as a participant at our 2nd Future Congress, leave the congress hall of the Westin Grand Hotel in Munich after two top-class training days, you will not only know what works in implantology and how it works, but you will also have an idea of what future implantology will look like.

I am looking forward to an exciting Future Congress with YOU!

Yours,
Dr Georg Bach
Scientific Leader
