Over the last 24 years, OEMUS MEDIA AG has become an established, leading global publisher specialised in dental medicine. In addition to a range of more than 20 specialised publications only on the German market, the publisher is also one of the major providers of congresses and seminars for dentists, dental technicians and dental assistants. In 1994, OEMUS MEDIA AG emerged from a freelancing educational institute. At the time of the company’s establishment, nobody expected or imagined that this idea would grow to become a publishing house operating worldwide and employing more than 100 people.

Facing the health-political changes in the country, company founder Torsten Oemus created a logical but at that time little-understood publishing concept. Today’s “state-of-the-art” intention of dentists with regard to their business activities faced a strong resistance in the middle of the 1990s. The principles of a practice which is lead in an entrepreneurial manner have grown to be the basis of a self-sustainable publisher’s portfolio that covers all sectors of dental medicine and dental technique basing on the foundation of OEMUS MEDIA AG’s flagship publication—ZWP Zahnarzt Wirtschaft Praxis. Beyond that, OEMUS MEDIA AG became a trendsetter in the specialisation of dentists but also was the first German dental publishing house which developed a well-coordinated range of magazines and events via its journal series and its newcomer congresses. In addition to its economical magazine for dental technicians (ZWL Zahntechnik Wirtschaft Labor) and professional political newspaper formats for dentists, orthodontists and dental technicians, OEMUS MEDIA AG also publishes the organ of the Federal Association for the German Dental Trade (Bundesverband Dentalhandel) DENTALZEITUNG, and the internationally renowned exhibition newspaper today.

Since 2008, OEMUS MEDIA AG is hosting ZWP online—one of the most famous and successful dental news and information portals in the German speaking countries.

Profile of Zahnärztliche Assistenz
SUPPLEMENT OF DENTAL TRIBUNE GERMAN EDITION

On time for IDS 2019, the popular supplement of Dental Tribune German Edition, “Zahnärztliche Assistenz”, will be released in a new layout and with up-to-date content. The focus will remain on the dental assistant, as the heart and soul of any dental practice. With issues in June and in November, the release rhythm remains unchanged.

With a mixture of dental issues, latest news and practical advice, the newspaper is primarily targeting young, self-confident, and modern women. In addition, “Zahnärztliche Assistenz” provides a bridge between print and online. Whereas hot topics from the daily practice are being discussed online with an active readership, those in-demand topics find subsequently their way into the newspaper’s print version. Hence, readers are actively shaping the issues’ contents.

Besides detailing the continuing changes in the demands placed on all qualified dental personnel, as well as further practice personnel such as dental hygienists, “Zahnärztliche Assistenz” reports about latest developments and offers solutions for an optimised workflow within the dental practice. Furthermore, the publication gives insights into legal questions, provides bookmarking advice, and presents an overview of forthcoming educational events. The know-how transfer of specific dental knowledge and expertise in the field of prophylaxis, and the “view beyond the horizon” regarding interpersonal and daily problems in the dental practice, are some of the key characteristics of “Zahnärztliche Assistenz”.

Profile

dentalfresh is the magazine for young dentistry. Students, assistants and young dentists form a key target group for dental market communication. In fact, they are the market’s future decision makers. Among demographic and economic factors continuously influencing the dental market, it is their interests and goals and their approach to work and life which will significantly shape the dental sector in the years to come. Therefore, the dental industry, as well as the banking sector and expert societies pay particular attention to the professional developments of those up-and-coming parties. Addressing this highly promising target group, OEMUS MEDIA AG offers a broad portfolio ranging from dentalfresh as a print magazine, the dentalfresh e-book “Assistentenhandbuch” (assistants handbook, also available as print on demand), to various other online products. In light of today’s ever changing specialist requirements and the constant emergence of new information channels and respective user habits, OEMUS MEDIA AG has readjusted its focus and positions dentalfresh as a magazine for students, assistants and young dentists. By doing so, it provides an increased relevance for advertising customers. Hence, issues concerning the entire process from study through assistantship up to the start of one’s own practice, shift into focus while student-related topics around the BdZM continue to be a firm part of the magazine’s coverage.

Profile

cosmetic dentistry is the interdisciplinary specialised magazine for high-end dentistry, as well as the official organ of the German Association for Cosmetic Dentistry (DGKZ e.V.).

First published in 2003, the magazine is one of the most popular publications on the German dental market. Facing the rapidly growing demand for perfectly fitting, high-quality aesthetic solutions, cosmetic dentistry aims at dentists, oral and maxillofacial surgeons, as well as orthodontics and covers key issues surrounding the restoration and improvement of functional and natural proportions in mouth, jaw and facial sections. As this new patient demand presents quite a challenge for the practitioner, “cosmetic dentistry” serves here as a support. It also provides advice and information on latest developments and trends in modern dental medicine promoting a responsible use and effective application of new dental technologies. The coverage comprises specialist articles, clinical studies, case and industry reports, product reviews, news and lifestyle pieces.

Profile of international magazines

With implants—international magazine of oral implantology, ceramic implants—international magazine of ceramic implant technology and laser—international magazine of laser dentistry, OEMUS MEDIA AG and cooperative societies such as the German Association of Dental Implantology (DGZI) and the German Association for Laser Dentistry (DGL) publish 3 international magazines for the most current trend disciplines within dentistry. All magazines provide scientific articles and case reports on the one hand, and furthermore inform the international readership about latest activities from the societies and their meetings. All 3 magazines also inform about latest developments from business and industry.

Most significant is the international distribution of all international magazines of OEMUS MEDIA AG. The implants magazine for example, is being read by members and subscribers in 100 countries. In addition, the magazine is being distributed at about 50 national and international congresses and trade exhibitions. Hence, the international magazines of OEMUS MEDIA AG contribute an important part for the international know-how transfer.
Profile

As a scientific journal in English, implants—international magazine of oral implantology enjoys a rapidly growing international audience with readers in more than 100 countries. Published in cooperation with DGZI e.V. (German Association of Dental Implantology), the magazine is dedicated to the transfer of implantology know-how. Its highly-specialised readership is provided with regular updates on current developments in implantology by user-oriented case reports, scientific studies and concise product information. Reports on international specialist congresses and symposia are of special interest, including DGZI’s international activities, whose 11,000 members and associates form an extensive implantological network. More than 80 per cent of the magazine’s copies are distributed directly to members and subscribers. Moreover, “implants” can be obtained at more than 50 international dental exhibitions and congresses. implants—international magazine of oral implantology is published in English (BE).
For 40 years, titanium implants have proven to be suitable as dental implants. Although the beginnings of dental implantology had been metal-free, alumina ceramic implants in those days did not meet the required standards with regard to stability. Today, zirconium dioxide is an approved implant material whose properties in stability, osseointegration and prosthetic compatibility are increasingly meeting the standards set by titanium implants. Moreover, the demand for highly aesthetic, tissue-friendly, and metal-free zirconium dioxide is growing, especially due to an annually increasing number of titanium intolerances. For these reasons, market experts estimate that the share of modern ceramic implants in the dental implant market will rise to 10 or even 25 per cent.

Taking these developments into account, OEMUS MEDIA AG publishes ceramic implants—international magazine of ceramic implant technology since 2017. This special edition of implants—international magazine of oral implantology is updating readers on the most current status of metal-free implantology, through case and scientific studies, as well as concise product and market information, in addition, special attention will be given to international specialist congresses and symposia. The print run of the magazine is 10,000 copies that are being distributed directly to recipients (subscribers of implants—international magazine of oral implantology) in more than 100 countries, as well as at international dental shows and congresses. Moreover, its e-paper version (www.zwp-online.info, three million visits per year) will be available at all times. Since 2018, ceramic implants magazine is being published twice a year. ceramic implants—international magazine of ceramic implant technology is published in English (BE).
In cooperation with the German Association for Laser Dentistry (DGL) and the International Society for Laser Dentistry (ISLD), founded in 2018, laser—international magazine of laser dentistry addresses all of those dental professionals worldwide who are using or are interested in dental laser technology. Analogues to the great success of the implants magazine which has been firstly introduced in 2000, the laser magazine also provides regular updates from the world of international laser dentistry in the form of user-orientated case studies, scientific reports, as well as custom-made product information focusing on the international laser market. In this context a high focus is being set on reports from international scientific congresses and symposia. The laser magazine keeps the reader up-to-date concerning the international activities of the DGL and ISLD. laser—international magazine of laser dentistry is being published four times per year.

General Terms and Conditions

for Ads and Third-Party Supplements in Newspapers and Magazines

1. An “Ad Order” within the meaning of the General Terms and Conditions below shall be the contract regarding the publication of one or several ad/s of an advertiser in a printed publication for the purpose of distribution.

2. In case of doubt, Ad Orders shall be called for publication within one year after conclusion of contract. If the conclusion grants the right to call individual ads, the order shall be completed within one year of publication of the first ad, provided the first ad is called for publication and published within the deadline mentioned in sentence 1.

3. In case of contractual conclusions, the customer shall be entitled to call for publication of further ads even beyond the ad quantity stated in the order within the period of time agreed upon or respectively stated under clause 2.

4. If an order is not fulfilled due to circumstances the publisher is not responsible for, the customer shall be obliged, notwithstanding any further legal obligations, to reimburse the publisher for the difference between the discount granted and the discount corresponding to the actual order. Reimbursement shall not apply if the non-fulfilment is due to force majeure within the risk area of the publisher. Any ad bookings shall become binding upon acceptance by the publisher. If any cancellations are made after the ad was accepted, 30 per cent lump-sum cancellation fees shall become due. From four weeks to the closing date, 50 per cent lump-sum cancellation costs shall become due for any cancellation. In case of any cancellations after the closing date, 75 per cent lump-sum cancellation costs shall become due.

5. For the purpose of calculating the acceptance quantities, text millimetre lines shall be converted into ad millimetres based upon price.

6. No guarantee shall be given for the inclusion of any ads and third-party supplements into specific issues, specific editions or at specific locations of the print, unless the principal has expressly made the validity of the order dependent thereon. In case of classified ads, the publisher shall guarantee publication under the respective rubric, without this requiring any explicit agreement.

7. Text section ads shall be ads which border text at least at three sides and not on other ad. Ads that are not identifiable as ads due to their editorial design shall be clearly identified by the publisher using the term “ad”.

8. The publisher reserves the right to reject Ad Orders—also including individual calls for publication in accordance with a contractual conclusion—and supplement orders due to content, origin or technical form according to uniform principles of the publisher. Ads and supplements may also be rejected in case of orders confirmed in a legally binding manner if, at the publisher’s reasonable discretion, their content violates laws, official provisions or good morals or their publication is unacceptable for the publisher. This shall apply to orders which have been submitted to branch offices, ad offices or representatives. Supplement orders shall be binding for the publisher only after the submission of a draft of the supplement and its approval. Supplements which, through their format or layout, give the reader the impression that they are an element of the newspaper or magazine or contain third-party ads shall be accepted only after consultation with the publisher. The customer shall be notified about the rejection of an order immediately.

9. The customer shall be responsible for the timely submission of the ad text and flawless print documents or the supplements. In case of obviously unsuitable or damaged print documents, the publisher shall demand replacements immediately. The publisher shall guarantee the usual standard print quality for the relevant publication within the scope of the printing documents submitted.

10. The customer shall have a claim to payment reduction or a flawless replacement ad if the print of the ad is, either in whole or in part, illegible, incorrect or incomplete, but only to the extent that the purpose of the ad has been compromised. If the publisher lets a reasonable deadline set for this purpose pass, the customer shall have a right to withdraw from the order. Claims for compensation for damages from impossibility of performance, default, positive infringement of the contract, fault upon contract conclusion and from unlawful acts, also for any orders placed by phone, shall be excluded, unless they are based on intent or gross negligence by the publisher, its legal representative or any auxiliary agent. Any further liabilities for the publisher shall be excluded. Any complaints must be asserted within a period of four weeks following receipt of the invoice and supporting document.

11. Proofs shall be supplied only upon express request. The customer shall bear responsibility for the accuracy of the returned proofs. If the customer does not return within the legal time limit the proof sent to the customer in good time, permission for printing shall be deemed to have been given.

12. If no special size specifications have been provided, the price of the ad shall be calculated based on the actual printing height customary acc. to the type of ad.

13. If the customer does not provide prepayment, invoice and supporting document shall be transmitted immediately, but, if possible, fourteen days following the publication of the ad. The invoice must be paid within the time limit specified on the price list and beginning with the receipt of invoice, unless a different payment period or prepayment has been agreed upon in an individual case. Any possible discounts for early payment shall be granted based upon the price list.

14. In the event of delayed payment or deferred payment, interest shall be charged, as well as collection costs. In the event of delayed payment, the publisher may suspend the further execution of the current order until payment is received and may demand prepayment for the remaining ads. In case of reasonable doubt of the customer’s solvency, the publisher shall be entitled to make the publishing of additional ads dependent on the prepayment of the amount and on the settlement of any outstanding invoice amounts, regardless of any initially agreed payment deadline, also within the duration of any ad contract.
Supplementary Terms and Conditions

15. The publisher shall provide an ad voucher with the invoice upon request. Depending on type and scope of the Ad Order, ad samples, sample vouchers or complete voucher numbers shall be delivered. If a voucher can no longer be procured, a legally binding certification from the publisher regarding the publication and distribution of the ad shall replace it.

16. The customer shall bear the costs for the manufacture of ordered printing blocks, matrices, and drawings, as well as for any significant changes to initially agreed designs as requested by or attributable to the customer.

17. A reduction in the number of copies circulated may lead to a claim for a price reduction if the overall circulation average throughout the insertion year beginning with the first ad or stipulated otherwise—if the circulation has not been specified—is smaller than the average circulation sold during the previous calendar year (in case of trade magazines, this might refer to the distributed circulation, if applicable). A reduction in circulation shall be a deficiency that justifies a price reduction only if it amounts to:
   - 20 per cent in a circulation of up to 50,000 copies,
   - 15 per cent in a circulation of up to 100,000 copies,
   - 10 per cent in a circulation of up to 500,000 copies,
   - 5 per cent in a circulation of more than 500,000 copies.

Furthermore, upon contractual conclusion any price reduction claims based on reduction of circulation shall be excluded if the publisher has notified the customer of the reduction in circulation in such a timely manner that the customer could withdraw from the contract before the ad is published.

18. In case of keyed ads, the publisher shall exercise the care of a prudent businessman with regard to safekeeping and timely forwarding of offers. It shall not assume any further liability. Registered and express letters addressed to keyed ads shall be forwarded using only regular mail. The receipts of keyed ads shall be retained for four weeks. Correspondence which has not been picked up during this time frame shall be destroyed. The publisher shall send back valuable documents without being obliged to do so. In the interests and for the protection of the customer, the publisher reserves the right to open any incoming offers for verification to eliminate any abuse of the keyed ad service. The publisher shall not be obliged to forward any commercial proposals and mediation service offers.

19. Matrices shall be returned to the customer only upon special request. The retention obligation shall end three months after expiry of the order.

20. The voidness of any clause shall not affect the effectiveness of the remaining provisions.

21. Unless the law mandatorily provides otherwise, the place of fulfilment shall be the publisher’s main office. Leipzig shall also be agreed upon as the place of jurisdiction for dunning proceedings and in the case that the customer’s place of residence or habitual abode is unknown at the time the suit is filed.

a) Once any Ad Order has been placed, the customer shall acknowledge the General and the Supplementary Terms and Conditions, as well as the price list of the publisher.

b) When accepting and examining the ad texts, the publisher shall use customary amount of care, but shall not be liable when being misled by the customers.

c) Any commission payment to advertising agencies shall be subject to the condition that the advertising agency places the order directly and also delivers the text resp. printing documents. The advertising agencies and agents shall be obliged to adhere to the publisher’s price list in their offers, contracts and statements of account with the advertisers. The agency commission granted by the publisher may neither totally nor partially be passed on to the customer.

d) The discounts specified in the ad price list shall be granted only for such ads of any advertiser that are published within one year. The time limit shall start upon publication of the first ad. The allocation of any own prices to regional resp. part editions or any other printed material of the publisher shall be regarded as a separate order; the relevant edition or combination shall become subject to a separate contractual conclusion.

e) The advertiser shall be retroactively entitled to a discount corresponding to its actual purchase of ads within a one-year period if it made any conclusion at the beginning of the period which entitles it to a discount based on the price list from the outset. The claims for any additional remuneration or charge shall cease to apply if they are not asserted within a period of three months after expiry of the year of conclusion.

f) The publisher reserves the right to additionally charge the discounts granted to the customer in case of any full or partial cancellation of discounted media packages.

g) Any defects in the printing documents that are not recognisable immediately, but become apparent only during the printing process shall not constitute grounds for the customers for any claim for payment reduction or compensation due to insufficient publication.

h) If the error made in the repeated ad is the same as the one in the first publication, any claims for payment reduction or compensation shall be excluded, unless the customer has made a complaint immediately after the first publication.

i) Any placement requests shall be taken into account acc. to the actual possibilities. The selection of specific text pages and any exclusion of competitive ads may not be agreed in a binding manner.

j) The customer shall be liable for the content and legal admissibility of the ad text and image and shall indemnify the publisher from any third-party claims. The customer shall be obliged to reimburse the costs of the publication of any counter statement related to actual allegations of the published ad in acc. with the respective applicable price list.

k) There shall be no claim for any document portion for all-copy ads. For repeated ads, the customer shall receive an ad excerpt only of the first ad.

l) Any changes in the ad price list shall become effective upon entry into force, also for current orders, unless any other agreement has been expressly made.
